

trav-art.com

Chief Standing Bear

Description

I decided to make another painting based on a vintage 1800s photograph, in this case the important chief of the Ponca tribe, Standing Bear. I believe the photo was dated to around the 1880s.

I made a few creative decisions but largely attempted to remain faithful to the photo and depicted authentic clothing worn by plains Indians at the time, including the symbols.

Date Created

July 4, 2022

Author

jsde